

James: Now press the button on the top.

Lisa: The one back here?

James: No, not on the back. Push the one on the top!

Lisa: Okay. Got it.

James: Good. I'm glad that's over with.

Lisa: Now let's take one with both of us together in the picture. Oh, come on, James, it'll be fun!

PART THREE (Questions 15–22)

You will hear a reporter talking about a "pod", a vehicle which offers a new form of public transport at Heathrow Airport. For questions 15–22, fill in the missing information. Do not write more than three words for your answers. There is an example (0) done for you. You now have 40 seconds to read the statements.

Reporter (radio): And now to our reporter Nigel Melville, direct from Heathrow Airport. Nigel...

Reporter (at Terminal 5): Good afternoon from Heathrow's Terminal 5, the shiny new terminal occupied by British Airways. I'm not here today to admire the terminal, but to see and take a ride in one of the most innovative transport systems you could imagine – truly amazing laser-guided pods that work without drivers or timetables and operate between Heathrow's Terminal 5 and its car parks. And believe me, with their futuristic design, they look simply fantastic.

These fully automated battery-powered pods can travel up to 25 miles per hour on a special road network. Pods don't require a special railway or magnetic field – just lines which can be used for optical navigation. One pod can transport four passengers and their luggage at a time. The journey takes five minutes and is non-stop from beginning to end. And all you have to do is select the route and press the start button when you get in.

With pod services running for 22 hours on weekdays, 21 hours on a Saturday and 20 hours on Sunday, they offer the best of the best for passengers.

The pods are simple to use, fast and (an) efficient service for passengers but as I was told, they also bring many environmental benefits. For example, one pod consumes 50 percent less energy per passenger than a bus and 70 percent less than a car.

The pods, developed at a cost of 30 million pounds over the last six years, will carry 500,000 passengers a year. About 800 people per day use the pods... and I'll soon be one of them ...

PART FOUR (Questions 23–27)

You will hear people talking in five different situations. For questions 23–27, choose the correct answer: A, B or C.

CD Track 13

Question 23: What is the woman's health problem?

Man: You look terrible. I guess your cold is getting worse. Don't you want to take the day off?

Woman: Yeah, I'd love to, but my husband's been at home with a bad flu since Monday and I'm sure I would catch the flu from him if we both stayed at home. And that would be a disaster, because Jane asked me to take care of those Japanese customers for her this weekend. You see, her mum broke her arm and she'll have to take care of her for a few days. So, I'll have to do with some aspirin and hot tea and stay here, if you don't mind.

CD Track 14

Question 24: Why does the boy think he will do better in the test than the girl?

Boy: Do you want to make a bet?

Girl: What kind of bet?

Boy: I bet that I will get a better mark than you in our science test tomorrow.

Girl: You sound very confident for someone who doesn't usually get good marks.

Boy: I am. I actually studied instead of playing computer games all week.

Girl: So, what do I get if I win the bet?

Boy: I'll let you play my video games whenever you want to.

Girl: And if I lose?

Boy: You have to do all of my cleaning chores for a month.

Girl: Hmmm...

CD Track 15

Question 25: When is the manager arriving at Heathrow Airport?

Woman: Mrs. Harrison, this is Jane Malffoy, Mr. Johns' secretary. Sorry to trouble you during the weekend, but the manager has asked me to tell you to meet him at the airport tomorrow. His flight from Sydney has been delayed by almost four hours and so, instead of arriving at 10:40 a.m., his plane is landing at Heathrow early in the afternoon, at 2:45 p.m. Unfortunately, I can't be there but I'm sending a driver with a company car to pick you up in front of your house tomorrow at 1:30. Sorry to spoil your Sunday.

CD Track 16

Question 26: Why is the man complaining?

Man: Oh, this is killing me. We've seen only a third of all the paintings here and I'm exhausted already. And to make matters worse, I have to be here until lunch. I don't see anything beautiful in these things. Look, I know you love art, but I'd rather be somewhere else.

Woman: Come on. Stop complaining. We'll stop for lunch somewhere before going to the next gallery. Where's your water bottle?

Man: I didn't bring one because my bag was too heavy.

Woman: Well, there you go. You have to stay hydrated. Here, I still have some Coke left in my bottle.

CD Track 17

Question 27: Why is the woman upset with her son?

Mum: Marcus! Why did you leave such a mess in here?

Marcus: What mess, Mom? I cleaned up my room like you asked.

Mum: No, I mean all these groceries on the kitchen table.

Marcus: You asked me to run to the store for a few things and I did it. Here is the shopping list you gave me.

Mum: And you didn't get the apples, I see.

Marcus: They didn't have any.

Mum: All right, but what about this... the milk and butter? How long were you going to let the food sit here?

Marcus: I ... I'll put it in the fridge right away. Sorry.

LISTENING – HIGHER LEVEL

CD Track 18

Vyšší úroveň obtížnosti. Poslechový test se skládá ze čtyř částí, jednotlivé části jsou od sebe odděleny následujícím zvukovým signálem. Po uplynutí vymezeného času na seznámení se s úlohami nebo zaznamenání odpovědí uslyšíte tento zvukový signál. Všechny nahrávky uslyšíte vždy dvakrát. Pokyny pro jednotlivé části jsou v anglickém jazyce.

CD Track 19

PART ONE (Questions 1–5)

You will hear people talking in five different situations. For questions 1–5, choose the correct answer: A, B, C or D.

CD Track 20

Question 1: You will hear a reporter talking about a polluted river. According to the reporter, where does the pollution come from?

Reporter: The people living in the village by the river have been complaining about the quality of water for weeks. We can clearly see that the river is extremely polluted by the time it gets to the village. There is a glass factory about three kilometers upstream but we had the water tested there and it was fine. Our suspicion that the pollution might come from the power plant above the factory has since been proven wrong. This means that the cause of the pollution must be the dairy farm about halfway between the factory and the village. We don't yet know exactly what is causing the pollution, but at least we now know where it is coming from. And we can only hope that the authorities will do something about it soon.

CD Track 21

Question 2: You will hear a chef being interviewed on the radio. Why did he decide to become a chef?
